DECISION OF THE SALEM HISTORIC LANDMARKS COMMISSION

CASE NO. Historic Review Case No. HIS19-02

FINDINGS: Based upon the application materials, the facts and findings in the Staff Report incorporated herein by reference, and testimony provided at the Public Hearing of February 21, 2019, the Historic Landmarks Commission (HLC) finds that the applicant adequately demonstrated that their proposal complies with the applicable provisions of the Salem Revised Code (SRC) 230.050 as follows:

FINDINGS

Salem Revised Code 230.065 General Guidelines for Historic Contributing Buildings

a) Except as otherwise provided in this Chapter, the property shall be used for its historic purpose, or for a similar purpose that will not alter street access, landscape design, entrance(s), height, footprint, fenestration, or massing.

Finding: The HLC finds that the applicant will be removing and replacing six antennas and associated equipment on the roof of the Capitol Tower. While it is clear that the original building was not constructed for this use, the impact of the antennas has been minimized due to the height of the structure and the placement of the antennas. The installation of the antennas (and associated equipment) will not alter the use of the building, the street access, landscape design, entrance(s), height, footprint, fenestration, or massing of the affected building. The HLC finds that this use is compatible and that this guideline has been met.

(b) Historic materials, finishes and distinctive features shall, when possible, be preserved and repaired according to historic preservation methods, rather than restored.

Finding: The HLC finds that there are no historic materials or features proposed for removal, reconstruction, or repair and that Guideline 230.065 (b) is not applicable to the evaluation of this proposal.

(c) Distinctive stylistic features or examples of skilled craftsmanship significance shall be treated with sensitivity.

Finding: The HLC finds that there are no distinctive stylistic features proposed for removal, reconstruction, or repair and Guideline 230.065 (c) does not apply to the evaluation of this proposal.

(d) Historic features shall be restored or reconstructed only when supported by physical or photographic evidence.

Finding: The HLC finds that there are no historic materials or features proposed for removal, reconstruction, or repair and that Guideline 230.065 (d) is not applicable to the evaluation of this proposal.

(e) Changes that have taken place to a historic resource over the course of time are evidence of the history and development of a historic resource and its environment, and should be recognized and respected. These changes may have acquired significance in their own right, and this significance should be recognized and respected.

Finding: The HLC finds that there are no distinctive historic materials or features that have acquired significance in their own right within the scope of this project and that SRC 230.065 (e) does not apply.

(f) Additions and alterations to a historic resource shall be designed and constructed to minimize changes to the historic resource.

Finding: The HLC finds that the replacement of six antennas would not increase the total number of antennas on the roof. The replacement of these antennas and associated equipment will not damage the integrity of the building and, although visible, will not adversely affect the resource, or surrounding historic district. The addition of the equipment will be visible, but the adverse visual impact of the antenna will be minimized due to the height of the building. The HLC finds that the antennas and the addition of associated equipment are compatible with the size and scale of the Capitol Building, and that SRC 230.065(f) has been met.

(g) Additions and alterations shall be constructed with the least possible loss of historic materials and so that significant features are not obscured, damaged, or destroyed.

Finding: The HLC finds that the proposed replacement antennas will not adversely impact or obscure any historic materials. The associated equipment will be installed below the roof parapet and therefore will be screened from view. In 2014, the HLC approved Verizon's proposal to remove and replace four (4) antennas, and associated equipment on the roof of the Capitol Tower. Due to concerns about the cumulative adverse effect resulting from adding more antennas to this resource, the HLC added a condition of approval which limited the total number and cumulative size of antennas and associated equipment. At that time the resource had approximately 33 antennas on the rooftop belonging to various carriers. The HLC has made it clear that their intent is to limit the cumulative adverse impact of too much wireless equipment attached to this historic resource. Therefore, in order to continue to limit the cumulative adverse effect of future wireless modification proposals on this resource, the HLC adopts the following CONDITION of APPROVAL:

Condition 1: Any new or replacement communication device(s), including but not limited to dishes, antennas, and associated equipment shall not exceed the total number and cumulative size of the dishes, antennas, and associated equipment currently approved for installation.

(h) Structural deficiencies in a historic resource shall be corrected without visually changing the composition, design, texture or other visual qualities.

Finding: The HLC finds that the proposal does not include any plans to correct structural deficiencies, and that Guideline 230.065 (h) does not apply to the evaluation of this proposal.

(i) Excavation or re-grading shall not be allowed adjacent to or within the site of a historic resource which could cause the foundation to settle, shift, or fail, or have a similar effect on adjacent historic resources.

Finding: The HLC finds that the proposal does not include any plans for excavation or regrading, and that Guideline 230.065 (i) does not apply to the evaluation of this proposal.

RECOMMENDATION

The Historic Landmarks Commission APPROVES the proposal with the following CONDITION:

Condition 1: Any new or replacement communication device(s), including but not limited to dishes, antennas and associated equipment shall not exceed the total number and cumulative size of the dishes, antennas and associated equipment currently approved for installation.

Description: This eleven-story reinforced architectural scored concrete, skyscraper, the tallest building in Salem, was designed by L.L. Dougan. A Commercial style building, it is situated on the southwest corner of State and Liberty streets. It has two primary facades. The north-facing facade is 45 feet wide and comprised of three bays; the east-facing facade is 100 feet wide with seven bays.

Characteristic of the Commercial style, this 145-foot tall building is architecturally divided into three parts: a two-story ground-level section, a seven-story central or shaft section, and the upper two stories. Each of the three sections is architecturally distinctive. A massive two-story arch dominates the ground floor of the north elevation over the main building entryway. The east-facing facade has five two-story arched window bays that echo the entryway arch. The second and third stories are separated by a prominent masonry belt course that is decorated with dentil molding consisting of a series of four different faces that alternate between human and mythological faces.

Four undecorated masonry pilasters extend up from this belt course to the parapet. These pilasters divide the north facade (above the third floor) into three bays. From the fourth to the tenth floors these bays are bisected by narrow engaged columns, which appear to buttress semi-circular arches (two per bay) directly above the tenth-story windows. There are fourteen two-light steel casement windows with transoms in each bay. All the windows are rectangular except the six tenth-story windows that have arched transoms.

The building has elaborate ornamentation on the north and east elevations from the eleventh floor upward to the parapet. The outer bay has a standing human figure with stylized wings surrounding it, bearded human faces in relief, and statuary of griffins at both the northwest and northeast corners of the building. A third such statue is also near the southeast corner. The parapet itself is divided above each bay into three rectangular segments; the center one is somewhat higher and more protruding than the two flanking it. Aside from its longer horizontal dimension and additional bays (seven as opposed to three on the north facade), the east elevation is substantially similar to the north. Recently, an elevated, covered walkway has been extended out from the south facade to connect with a multi-level parking structure.

This building retains its historic integrity and contributes to the character of the downtown district.

History and Significance This building was designed by Portland architect L.L. Dougan, financed by Thomas A. Livesley (through the First National Bank), and constructed in 1926. Three years earlier when the First National Bank was organized, Thomas Livesley, who sat on the bank's board of directors had announced that the directors "would erect as a home for the bank and for other important business institutions in Salem, a modern steel and concrete building on the corner of State and Liberty streets." When completed in 1926, seventy-five percent of available office space was leased, with physicians and dentists predominating as tenants.¹³¹ The First National Bank occupied the ground floor until the late 1940s when Stevens & Sons Jewelers became tenants through 1982. The building is locally significant for its integrity and physical dominance in the historic district. It is the premiere example of reinforced concrete construction in Salem. The building is also significant for its association with Thomas Livesley, leading hop grower in the Northwest, politician, and Salem entrepreneur.

Thomas A. Livesley was born December 8, 1863, in Ironton, Wisconsin. His father is reputed to be the first person to export hops from Wisconsin to Great Britain. In 1887 Thomas Livesley's father relocated his family to Seattle where he continued in the hops trade. Young Livesley worked in the family hops business until he was thirty-one. In 1894 he began his own hop business in Salem, and came to own one of the largest hop farms in the Northwest.¹³² Additionally, Livesley served as Salem's mayor and filled an unexpired term in the state senate.

Leigh L. Dougan, the Portland architect, grew up in Indiana, studied architecture at the Armour Institute of Technology in Chicago, and spent fourteen years with the Portland, Oregon, firm of Houghtaling & Dougan. In 1925 the firm disbanded; Dougan continued practicing on his own. Dougan became well known for his broad knowledge and use of classical style design elements in his buildings. In addition to Salem's First National Bank, he is credited with the design of the Medical Dental Building in Portland, Oregon, the Oregon State Tuberculosis Hospital in Salem, the Lake Oswego grade school building, the John Day high school, the Jesuit Novitiate in Sheridan, Oregon, and the monastery at the Sanctuary of Our Sorrowful Mother in Portland. Dougan was also known for his sketches in both oil and water colors. During the Great Depression he began a series of illustrations, "Wildlife of the Pacific Northwest."¹³³

REQUEST: Historic Design Review for the replacement of antennas and radio equipment on the rooftop. Modification to an existing site for Verizon Wireless.

SITE DESCRIPTION: 073W27AB/7200

LOCATION: 388 State Street, Salem, OR 97301

Capitol Tower

PROJECT DESCRIPTION

Verizon Wireless seeks to improve coverage for both voice and data in the downtown Salem area. Currently, there is a gap in service and poor call/data quality that is affecting existing customers. Because of the increase in demand of services by customers, Verizon has found these issues need immediate attention and requires a long-term solution.

Verizon Wireless proposes to replace six of nine existing panel antennas mounted on the rooftop of the Capitol Tower building. Currently, all antennas and cabling are painted to match the building. Any replacement equipment would be painted to match as well. Additionally, Verizon proposed to add three remote radio units (RRU) and one surge suppressors (OVP) below the antennas, below the parapet wall so they may be screened from view. In exchange for the new radio units, six diplexers will be removed. Photo simulations have been included with the application to further show that these items will not be seen except from the rooftop itself.

All existing base station equipment is currently located in the basement. There are no changes proposed to the cabinets.

Sec. 230.065. - General guidelines for historic contributing resources.

In lieu of the standards for historic contributing buildings set forth in SRC 230.025 and 230.040, an applicant may make a proposal for preservation, restoration, or rehabilitation activity, regardless of type of work, which shall conform to the following guidelines:

- (a) Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, the property shall be used for its historic purpose, or for a similar purpose that will not alter street access, landscape design, entrance(s), height, footprint, fenestration, or massing.

While the original building was not constructed for this use in 1926, the impact of the replaced antennas are minimized due to the height of the building and their placement in the same locations as previously approved through HIS 14-42. The proposed change does not change the use of the building, access, landscape etc.

- (b) Historic materials, finishes and distinctive features shall, when possible, be preserved and repaired according to historic preservation methods, rather than restored.
- (c) Distinctive stylistic features or examples of skilled craftsmanship significance shall be treated with sensitivity.
- (d) Historic features shall be restored or reconstructed only when supported by physical or photographic evidence.

There are no historic materials that will be removed with this antenna replacement.

- (e) Changes that have taken place to a historic resource over the course of time are evidence of the history and development of a historic resource and its environment, and should be recognized and respected. These changes may have acquired significance in their own right, and this significance should be recognized and respected.

There are no distinctive historic materials or features that have acquired significance in their own rights within the scope of this project.

- (f) Additions and alterations to a historic resource shall be designed and constructed to minimize changes to the historic resource.

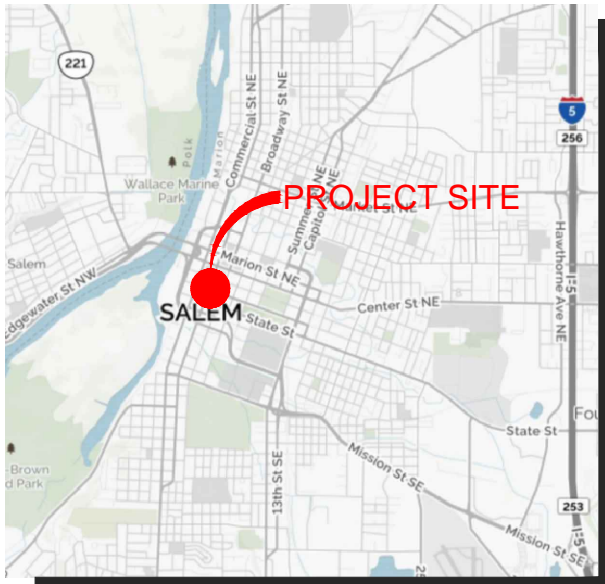

Currently, Verizon has 9 panel antennas located on the rooftop. This application replaces 6 of those existing antennas and retains the other 3 for an overall total of 9-panel antenna. This configuration is in compliance of Condition 1 set forth in HIS14—42. The proposed addition of remote radio units and surge protector will not be visible from the ground as that equipment is very small.

- (g) Additions and alterations shall be constructed with the least possible loss of historic materials and so that significant features are not obscured, damaged, or destroyed.
- (h) Structural deficiencies in a historic resource shall be corrected without visually changing the composition, design, texture or other visual qualities.
- (i) Excavation or re-grading shall not be allowed adjacent to or within the site of a historic resource which could cause the foundation to settle, shift, or fail, or have a similar effect on adjacent historic resources.

This proposal does not require any structural corrections or any excavation.

DECISION OF THE SALEM HISTORIC LANDMARKS COMMISSION

CASE NO. Historic Review Case No. HIS14-42 / AMANDA No. 14-119285-DR

NOTICE OF DECISION DATE: January 21, 2015

REQUEST: Major Historic Design Review of a proposal to remove and replace four existing antennas and associated equipment on the roof of the Capitol Tower (1926), a historic contributing building within Salem's Downtown Historic District, in the CB (Central Business District) zone, and located at 388 State Street (Marion County Assessor's Map and Tax Lot number: 073W27AB/7200).

OWNER/APPLICANT: Shanin Prusia for Verizon Wireless
QA Enterprises (Roger Yost)

LOCATION: 388 State Street (Marion County Assessor map and tax lot numbers: 073W27AB/7200)

CRITERIA: Salem Revised Code (SRC) Chapter 230
230.065 General Guidelines for Historic Contributing Buildings

FINDINGS: Based upon the application materials, the facts and findings in the Staff Report dated January 15, 2014 incorporated herein by reference, and testimony provided at the Public Hearing of January 15, 2014, the Historic Landmarks Commission (HLC) finds that the applicant adequately demonstrated that the proposal complies with the applicable provisions of the Salem Revised Code (SRC) as follows:

Criteria: 230.065. General Guidelines for Historic Contributing Resources. In lieu of the standards for historic contributing buildings set forth in SRC 230.025 and SRC 230.040, an applicant may make a proposal for preservation, restoration or rehabilitation activity, regardless of type of work, which shall conform to the following guidelines:

- (a) Except as otherwise provided in this Chapter, the property shall be used for its historic purpose or for a similar purpose that will not alter street access, landscape design, entrance(s), height, footprint, fenestration or massing.
- (b) Historic materials, finishes and distinctive features shall, when possible, be preserved and repaired according to historic preservation methods rather than restored.
- (c) Distinctive stylistic features or examples of skilled craftsmanship significance shall be treated with sensitivity.
- (d) Historic features shall be restored or reconstructed only when supported by physical or photographic evidence.
- (e) Changes that have taken place to a historic resource over the course of time are evidence of the history and development of a historic resource and its environment, and should be recognized and respected. These changes may have acquired significance in their own right, and this significance should be recognized and respected.

- (f) Additions and alterations to a historic resource shall be designed and constructed to minimize changes to the historic resource.
- (g) Additions and alterations shall be constructed with the least possible loss of historic materials and so that significant features are not obscured, damaged or destroyed.
- (h) Structural deficiencies in a historic resource shall be corrected without visually changing the composition, design, texture or other visual qualities.
- (i) Excavation or re-grading shall not be allowed adjacent to or within the site of a historic resource which could cause the foundation to settle, shift or fail, or have a similar effect on adjacent historic resources.

Findings:

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this Chapter, the property shall be used for its historic purpose, or for a similar purpose that will not alter street access, landscape design, entrance(s), height, footprint, fenestration, or massing.

Findings:

The HLC finds that while it is clear that the original building was not constructed for this use, the impact of the antennae has been minimized due to the height of the structure and the placement of the antennae. The installation of the antennae (and associated equipment) will not alter the use of the building, the street access, landscape design, entrance(s), height, footprint, fenestration, or massing of the affected building. The HLC finds that this use is compatible and that Guideline 230.065 (a) has been met.

(b) Historic materials, finishes and distinctive features shall, when possible, be preserved and repaired according to historic preservation methods, rather than restored.

(c) Distinctive stylistic features or examples of skilled craftsmanship significance shall be treated with sensitivity.

(d) Historic features shall be restored or reconstructed only when supported by physical or photographic evidence.

Findings:

HLC finds that there are no distinctive historic materials or features proposed for removal, reconstruction, or repair and that Guidelines 230.065 (b)(c) and (d) do not apply.

(e) Changes that have taken place to a historic resource over the course of time are evidence of the history and development of a historic resource and its environment, and should be recognized and respected. These changes may have acquired significance in their own right, and this significance should be recognized and respected.

Findings:

HLC finds that there are no distinctive historic materials or features that have acquired significance in their own right within the scope of this project and that SRC 230.065 (e) does not apply to this proposal.

(f) Additions and alterations to a historic resource shall be designed and constructed to minimize changes to the historic resource

(g) Additions and alterations shall be constructed with the least possible loss of historic materials and so that significant features are not obscured, damaged, or destroyed.

Findings:

The HLC finds that the replacement of four antennae would not increase the total number of antennae on the roof and the width of the proposed new antennae will be significantly smaller. The HLC finds that overall, the proposed antennae will be reduced in size by 9.1 inches (19.9%), reducing their cumulative adverse impact on the resource. However, the HLC finds that there is a potential cumulative adverse effect resulting from adding more antennae to the roof of the Capitol Tower. In order to better meet Guideline SRC 230.065(f), the HLC proposes to attach a condition of approval limiting size and number of any future panels (i.e. shall not exceed a total of nine and total cumulative size of the existing panels currently approved for installation).

The HLC finds that the replacement by these four new antennae and associated equipment will not damage the integrity of the building and, although visible, will not adversely affect the resource, or surrounding historic district. The addition of the equipment will be visible, but will be minimized due to the height of the building, minimizing the adverse visual impact due to their addition. Provided a condition is attached, limiting cumulative adverse effect, the HLC find that the antennae and the addition of associated equipment are compatible with the size and scale of the Capitol Tower, and that SRC 230.065(f) and (g) have been met.

(h) Structural deficiencies in a historic resource shall be corrected without visually changing the composition, design, texture or other visual qualities.

(i) Excavation or re-grading shall not be allowed adjacent to or within the site of a historic resource which could cause the foundation to settle, shift, or fail, or have a similar effect on adjacent historic resources.

Findings:

The HLC finds that the proposal does not include any plans to correct structural deficiencies or excavation and regrading, and that Guidelines 230.065 (h) and (i) do not apply to this proposal.

DECISION: The Historic Landmark Commission voted to adopt the Staff Recommendation contained in the Staff Report and Supplemental Staff Report dated January 15, 2014, and APPROVES the proposal, subject to the following CONDITION:

- 1) Condition 1. In order to limit the cumulative adverse effect of the installation of new antennae on this historic resource and the surrounding site, future installation of antennae by this applicant shall not exceed a total of nine antennae on the Capitol Tower. Any future replacement antenna panels shall not exceed the total cumulative size of the existing panels currently approved for installation.
